ADMINISTRATIVE APPOINTMENTS (University of Kansas)

Dean, Graduate Studies (January 8, 2012 – December 20, 2013)

Primary Duties: Provide central leadership to all aspects of graduate education on the KU Lawrence and Edwards campuses, which includes 62 doctoral programs, 98 master's programs, and roughly 6000 enrolled graduate students. Direct the implementation of all graduate studies aspects of Bold Aspirations (<http://provost.ku.edu/strategic-plan>), the KU Strategic Plan, which includes: the enhancement of endowment and other funding for KU graduate studies; the improvement of graduate student recruitment, enrollment, retention, mentoring, and timely degree completion; the promotion of KU degree programs; and the compilation of all data pertinent to any evaluation of KU graduate education. Serve as Director and Managing Trustee of the Madison and Lila Self Graduate Fellowship Program (base endowment  $\approx$  \$39.5M). Provide direct oversight to the Office of Graduate Military Programs. Oversee the policies and procedures related to graduate application processing, GTA, GRA, and GA appointment processes, and graduate degree requirements. Oversee the collection and dissemination of data pertaining to graduate education to all appropriate KU offices, schools, departments, and programs. Work closely with senior research and graduate studies officers at the KU Medical Center on university-wide graduate initiatives, programs, and concerns. Direct and/or coordinate the annual allocation of approximately \$1.1M in various graduate fellowships and awards. Oversee organization of the annual university doctoral hooding ceremony and deliver doctoral hooding address (attendance  $\approx$  2000).

Major Accomplishments:

- Established an implementation committee (faculty, students, and staff) and wrote implementation plan for the campus-wide initiative in Bold Aspirations to elevate doctoral education.
- Implemented the first-year phase of Bold Aspirations plan for doctoral education and built initial structures and processes required for the 4-year implementation of entire plan, including the restructuring of graduate funding.
- Implemented the second-year phase of Bold Aspirations plan for doctoral education.
- Aligned $1M in graduate student funding with the doctoral education goals of Bold Aspirations
- Oversaw the purchase and pilot implementation of a first-ever campus-wide Constituent Relations Management (CRM) tool (Prospect) for graduate recruitment.
- Completed final stage of campus-wide graduate program review with reports on 32 departments and programs.
- Initiated new mode of Graduate Studies relationship to KU Endowment Association.

Director, Center for Global and International Studies (January 4, 2010 - April 1, 2012)

Primary Duties: Administered all aspects of a Title VI National Resource Center, funded by the U.S. Department of Education after only one year in existence. In addition to budgetary and personnel management (including term-contract instructors, tenured faculty, program directors, and professional staff), coordinated student scholarship programs, K-12 and community outreach initiatives, grant-writing, interdisciplinary collaborations on and off campus, and oversaw a 160-student interdisciplinary undergraduate major, a two-track 80-student MA program, and the initiation of new language offerings on campus. Co-directed the Center during first three months of appointment as Dean of Graduate Studies.

Major Accomplishments:

- As first full-time Director, led the establishment of the Center and oversaw move of the Center into its inaugural physical space.
- Wrote successful Title VI National Resource Center Application and authored or co-authored three other successful grants to expand public outreach, research, and language instruction in the Center and at KU.

- Oversaw Center adoption of successful undergraduate co-major and its translation into a 160-student major that involved the programmatic collaboration of several dozen departments representing 300+ faculty members.
- Established and directed a specialized 11-month intensive and highly interdisciplinary MA degree program for twenty mid-level military officers and federal civilian agency personnel per cohort. This popular program continues a successful existence.
- Oversaw centralization of annual process of awarding of FLAS (Foreign Language and Area Studies) Fellowships to several dozen KU students in five area centers and more than thirty languages.
- Developed and fostered collaborations with Ft. Leavenworth (U.S. Army) post-secondary educational, outreach, and research constituencies.
- Developed and supervised new curricular, research, and outreach programs in: European Studies, Middle Eastern Studies, and South Asian Studies.
- Developed initiatives with KU Endowment and KU Alumni Association for alumni development.
- Coordinated successful external review of the Center in its second year of existence.

Acting Associate Director for Faculty Programs and Outreach, Center for Global and International Studies (July 1, 2009 – December 31, 2009)
(Occurred during sabbatical leave: see above for duties and accomplishments)

- Completed the transition to a new administrative model for Office of International Programs.

Interim Co-Associate Vice Provost, International Programs (July 1, 2007 – December 27, 2008)

Primary Duties: Co-directed the University of Kansas Office of International Programs under a new administrative model for Office by mandate of new Provost, reporting to the Senior Vice Provost for Academic Affairs. The office included 65 faculty and professional staff and a budget of approximately $8 million.

Essential duties included all those listed under duties of Associate Dean IP (see below), with addition of:

- direct supervision of the Directors of three constituent offices;
- direct responsibility for all budgets, fund-raising, program maintenance, and development activities;
- coordination of the promotion and tenure review materials for teaching faculty in the Applied English Center;
- handling of all exchange agreements with foreign institutions;

- direct supervision over all immigration processing for KU staff and faculty;
- development of campus internationalization assessment instruments;
- supervision of several campus-wide student engagement programs, including the Global Awareness Program and the Global Partners Program;
- fostering and expansion of national and international fund-raising and alumni development activities.

Major Accomplishments:

- Oversaw the smooth transition to a new administrative model for Office of International Programs mandated by Provost, with special attention to staff morale and office identity while maintaining or expanding all programs and services of a full-service campus internationalization office.
- Oversaw budget rescissions as part of overall University cut-backs without laying off staff or eliminating services.
- Collaborated with the Dean and Associate Dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences to plan and establish the Center for Global and International Studies, a new institutional home for previously dispersed undergraduate and graduate programs in international studies and an incubator for new curricular initiatives and grant-funded projects in global affairs.
- Successfully led the planning and execution of a multi-day, two-country celebration of 50 years of deep and persistent collaborative activities between the University of Kansas and the University of Costa Rica under the longest-standing exchange agreement between two universities in the Americas.
