8. TEACHING

(a) Areas of special interest and accomplishments

At the undergraduate level I have taught econometrics, public sector economics, introductory macroeconomics, economics of sports, and mathematical economics. The later two courses I introduced to the campus curriculum. I have also taught 9 directed studies courses, 7 of which were for our Philosophy, Politics and Economics (PPE) program.

At the graduate level I have taught 9 courses. 8 of these were directed studies courses in econometrics, public economics, and rural economic development. The other course was a team taught, interdisciplinary, field course that focused on water management issues in the City of Peachland, BC. In March of 2021 I received a Golden Apple Award in the category of Creating a Safe Classroom Environment of ECON 352.

- (d) Continuing Education Activities
While at UBC in Vancouver I attended a Teaching and Academic Growth program designed for Teaching Postdoctoral Fellows. This optional program provided me with advice on designing courses, teaching large classes, and creating course syllabuses.
In May of 2013, 2014, and 2015 I attended the UBC Okanagan Teaching and Learning Conference. This has been a valuable event for me and has influenced revisions of the syllabi, and course content for the courses that I teach.
- (e) Visiting Lecturer (indicate university/organization and dates)
Guest lecture for EADM 557 Leadership for Inclusive Education as Social Justice – What is Educational Justice (UBC Okanagan Faculty of Education/ July 28, 2015)
Guest Lecture for IGS 501-O Interdisciplinary Topics in Research Methods and Analysis - URBAN STUDIES (UBC Okanagan/ January 21, 2016)
Guest lecturer for Donna Feir's ECON 423 (Economics and Indigenous Peoples) at University of Victoria, one video lecture titled "Governance and Property Taxation of BC First Nations". March 23, 2021.
Guest lecturer for Elisabeth Gugl's ECON 325 (Public Economics) at University of Victoria, one video lecture titled "Taxation of BC First Nations". November 26, 2021.
Guest lecturer for Jannik Eikenaar's ENGR 502 (Technical Communication for Engineering Research) at University of British Columbia Okanagan, one video lecture titled "Governance and Property Taxation of BC First Nations". January 19, 2022.
- (f) Other
I developed a course on Urban Economics for the Urban Studies IGS program. I also developed and introduced a Mathematical Economics course to the undergraduate curriculum, along with a course on the Economics of Sports.
At the University of Melbourne, I was a team member and co-developer of a module "Big Data and Artificial Intelligence for Performance Management" as one of five modules for a Government Performance Diploma Program developed for and administered to 60 civil servants from the United Arab Emirates in June of 2019.
At the University of Melbourne, I was co-lead in the development and delivery of a Masters of Public Administration course titled "Decision Making Under Uncertainty" offered through the Australia New Zealand School of Governance in October 2019.

9. SCHOLARLY AND PROFESSIONAL ACTIVITIES

- (a) Areas of special interest and accomplishments
I am an applied microeconomist. My primary research has focused on public economics and political economy. I have also taken part in a number of interdisciplinary projects that have public-policy implications with researchers in engineering, management, psychology, education, and political science. My research has been cited 185 times (according to Google Scholar). A coauthored paper, published in the Canadian Journal of Economics, was the first runner up for the 2012 Harry Johnson prize for the best paper published in the journal in 2011.

1. REFEREED PUBLICATIONS

In Economics, the scholarly activity of primary importance is the refereed journal article. Coauthored work is not unusual. The norm within the discipline for listing authors is alphabetical unless the collaboration has been extremely skewed by the input of one or more researchers. All of the co-authored research that I have participated in has been an equal partnership between members of the research teams, with all involved equally from inception to publication. I have coauthored one in-progress article with my Ph.D. supervisor, Anke Kessler.

When I have participated in interdisciplinary research projects the research team has adopted the order of authorship conventions of the discipline under which the manuscript has been submitted. This applies to items (a) 1, and (b) 1.
